

Rättvist byggande

Collaboration between real estate developers towards sound competition and crime-free construction.

Work-related crime is common in the construction industry. It includes economic crimes, tax evasion, exploitation of workers, and social dumping – all of which contribute to unsound competition.

What is Rättvist byggande?

Rättvist byggande aims to prevent and counteract work-related crimes and unsound competition in construction projects. It is also an independent organization which support and help real estate developers (construction clients) with work-related crimes in Sweden. This is done with the purpose and aim of preventing our members' projects from financing criminal activities, and to protect both individuals and companies directly involved in our projects

This is Rättvist byggande:

- Pre-registration of subcontractors
All subcontractors and suppliers in our construction projects are pre-registered by the main contractor and controlled by Rättvist byggande.
- Communication
All construction projects have placards with information about our expectations as well as contact information for Fair Play Bygg
- Compliance audits
Unannounced site visits on construction sites to investigate and ensure legal and contractual obligations and requirements. We check:
 - Pre-registered subcontractors
 - ID06
 - Proof of identity
 - Work and residence permits
 - Enclosure and gates surrounding the construction site
 - Posting
- Revised agreements and compliance management
All construction contracts and agreements tied to Rättvist byggande are revised and adjusted with demands and sanctions. We assist in managing and remedying deficiencies in contracts and with government contacts such as police reports.
